

WELCOME TO MACKAY HIGHLANDS AND EUNGELLA NATIONAL PARK

Enter an enchanting world, where clouds cloak the rainforest, birds call from quiet creeks, breezes carry soft bush scents, and the afternoon sun shines on the sheer cliffs of the Clarke Ranges.

Feel refreshed dipping into clear rock pools surrounded by volcanic boulders and countless waterfalls. Sense the shy movements of platypus and Eungella spiny crayfish darting through the water. Catch glimpses of colourful birdlife moving in the canopy.

Wander through misty-veiled rainforests and dense palm groves, past towering forest giants standing sentinel on the dramatic cliff line. Let shadows envelop you on a twilight safari, where tawny frogmouths, gliders and possums will greet you as they emerge into the night.

Come and discover this magical mountainous place where the tropics and subtropics meet.

“I love the diversity in the landscape as you cross the Clarke Connors Range. Within one hour’s drive you can experience dense subtropical rainforest with an abundance of wildlife, then drive through open eucalypt woodlands and enjoy the steep rugged escarpments of Diamond Cliffs in Homevale National Park.”

DISCOVER MACKAY HIGHLANDS

With tranquil rainforest, rustic charm and dramatic terrain, Mackay Highlands has a natural beauty you will never forget. The landscape is a sculpted masterpiece—steep escarpments give way to deep gorges and waterholes, with dense rainforest and majestic woodland hemmed by a patchwork of farming communities.

Explore cloud-shrouded mountains in Eungella National Park, Australia’s longest remaining stretch of subtropical rainforest and one of Queensland’s most ecologically-diverse parks. Eungella protects more than 860 subtropical and tropical rainforest plant species and a spectacular array of wildlife.

Lose yourself in picturesque creek scenery, lush rainforest remnants and open forest dotted with beautiful, century-old rose gums in Crediton State Forest. Trace the footsteps of Birri Gubba Traditional Owners, gold miners and early timber harvesters, or tell ghost stories by torchlight at the camp near historic Crediton Hall.

Dramatic peaks and spires jut breathtakingly out of the vast dry plains in Homevale National Park—the remains of ancient volcanic eruptions. Delight in broilgas dancing and honeyeaters dipping into Moonlight Dam’s watery oasis.

Imagine yourself on an outback adventure, riding horseback or pedalling through the grasstree-lined foothills of the Clarke Range at Mia Mia State Forest, a melody of bird calls ringing through the forest.

CALL OF THE WILD

Stand quietly in this lush, green paradise and discover forests brimming with life.

Listen closely and hear the clear, sharp calls of the Eungella honeyeater, found only in these highlands. Be entertained by an orchestral chorus of rainbow lorikeets (pictured left), red-browed finches and blue-faced honeyeaters in the trees, or hear the rustle and distinctive ‘walk-to-work’ call of noisy pittas foraging for snails in the leaf litter. Watch turtles bob at the surface at Broken River and wait for a resident platypus to make a shy appearance.

At night, secretive Eungella tinkerfrogs punctuate the air with metallic ‘tinks’. Hold your breath as greater gliders and common ringtail possums cling to high branches, and rare golden-tipped bats dart silently through the canopy. Like staring at a magic eye, see if you can spy the Clarke Range’s own species of leaf-tailed gecko, almost invisible against rough tree bark.

Camping is also available at Crediton Hall, managed by and booked through Mackay Regional Council.

WALKING IN THE CLOUDS

Let the crisp mountain air invigorate you as you explore magnificent walking tracks. Stroll with the family, walk for several hours, or for a challenge, set out on the 56km Mackay Highlands Great Walk.

For further detail including walk distances refer to the included map or visit queenslandnationalparks.com.au

1 PINE GROVE

Delight in walking through shady rainforest on Pine Grove circuit, catching glimpses of picturesque Pioneer Valley beyond tall trees. Or continue to Sky Window along Cedar Grove track and admire views of the valley floor from the lookout—a patchwork of green and brown cane fields with a sheer mountain backdrop. Feel dwarfed by towering red cedars and tulip oaks. Be a child again, peering from inside a twisted strangler fig tree arch.

2 SKY WINDOW

See bright piccabeen and Alexandra palms glistening in the breeze after light rain or morning mist along Sky Window circuit. Drink in breathtaking views stretching to the steep, rugged northern wall, before descending to the tumbling cascades of Broken River.

3 BROKEN RIVER

Be entranced by playful platypus along the Platypus walk. Cross trickling creeks beneath a forest ceiling decorated with epiphytes and vines on the cool and shady Rainforest Discovery circuit. Explore tall groves of livistona palms lining the Granite Bend circuit—their fan-shaped leaves beckoning you to the banks of Broken River to listen to the sounds of water rushing over rocks.

Watch for ripples and bubbles of platypus, eels and freshwater turtles on the creek surface on Crediton Creek track. Walk through rainforest gullies up to rocky ridges covered in drier vine forest where you may see unadorned rock-wallabies or red-legged pademelons. To extend your walk, continue along Wishing Pool circuit, through tall rainforest carpeted with ferns, and listen for whipbirds and fruit-doves calling around you.

Take a break with a leisurely bush picnic among tall swamp mahogany and red gum trees in the Broken River visitor area.

9 FINCH HATTON GORGE

Weave between large granite boulders on the Araluen Cascades track before walking through emerald-green rainforest to reach the lookout above the cascades. Those seeking a place for quiet contemplation will fall in love with the Wheel of Fire track, where forest reflections shimmer across the still rock pool surface.

Finch Hatton Gorge has many dangerous cascades. While the cascades look inviting to explore and climb, please beware of the dangers—lives have been lost here.

Access to the gorge is along dirt roads with multiple creek crossings. Some may be impassable after heavy rain.

MACKAY HIGHLANDS GREAT WALK

Satisfy your wanderlust with a long trek through rainforest and palm groves, cliffs and peaks, quiet roads and farmland. Walk for a while or tackle all 56km! The full walk is recommended only for fit, experienced walkers with strong navigational skills. Park Rangers recommend you take a topographic map. For the less experienced, why not try a few short sections. Visit npsr.qld.gov.au/great-walks-mackay-highlands/ for detailed information.

BUSH ADVENTURES

Take a scenic drive, exploring stunning stretches of dense rainforest, russet-red gum forest and quiet farmland that stretch as far as the eye can see. Cruise along easy roads, stopping to sample local fare at a cafe and watch the sunset at a scenic lookout. Or rumble along curves of a washboard road for a 4WD adventure sure to make your heart beat faster.

Adventurous mountain bikers and horseriders will relish exploring the quiet country roads and trails in Mia Mia and Crediton state forests. Watch for vehicles and walkers sharing the road!

RIDE SAFE, RIDE HAPPY

- Cyclists should give way to horses and walkers.
- Walkers should give way to horses.
- Bikes and horses are not permitted on walking tracks or in national parks.

ADVENTURE SAFELY

Make your visit to the highlands memorable for the right reasons.

- Walk between April and September to avoid wet and dry weather extremes.
- Never dive or jump into creeks or pools as the water level may be shallow or hide submerged objects.
- Take care on slippery rocks and at creek crossings.
- Take care near cliff edges—do not climb on rock faces.
- Wear warm, protective clothing and insect repellent.
- Leave plenty of time to reach your destination in daylight.

THE ESSENTIAL PACKLIST

- Mobile phone. Reception may be poor in places.
- First-aid kit.
- Untreated, clean-milled firewood for camping area fire rings. Firewood cannot be collected from the park.
- Drinking water or sterilisation tablets—safe drinking water is not provided in the park.

TREAD SOFTLY

Help maintain this pristine environment and leave no trace of your visit. It's easy—here's how:

- Rubbish—pack it in, pack it out. Take all rubbish (including food scraps, cigarette butts and sanitary and hygiene items) with you.
- Stay on the walking tracks—shortcutting causes erosion and damages vegetation.
- Be frog friendly—please don't disturb or remove rocks or trample vegetation near creeks.
- Leave your pets at home—domestic animals are not permitted in national parks.

RANGER FAVOURITES

“If you only go to one place, visit Broken River ③. Enjoy watching saw-shelled turtles, perch, eels and platypus in the waterways, and if you are really lucky, you might see a male regent bowerbird (pictured right) fly through the rainforest like a flame across the canopy!”

Ranger Ben

“My favourite hike is the Crediton Creek track. You follow Broken River ③ and experience wildlife in abundance, with several rock pools providing numerous chances to see platypus (pictured below).”
